Payment Management Licenses - Token Factory

Business Process

After payment confirmation, the user's token enters the management of the purchased licenses.

The user has control over the licenses purchased for his token. At any time it is possible to add more services or remove. It is at the discretion of the administrator of the Token Creator tool the price conditions of the services offered.

The Token Creator tool manages license payments daily. Checks payments received and licenses to expire by notifying the user.

Licenses are prepaid, so Token Creator recalculates the cancellation date to the most appropriate day for the entire paid period to be used.
